Superintendent of Public Instruction

It is said of the Aztecs, previous to the conquest of Mexico by the Spaniards, that before they made a sacrifice of their prisoners, they were in the habit of arraying them in beautiful garments, ornamented with feathers, work of the richest plumage of the birds of the tropics. No attention seemed too good for them, and all vied in paying them honors. Something like this seems the preface to an article in an Opposition contemporary respecting our worthy Superintendent of Public Instruction, who is represented in a most amiable light, decorated with talents and attainments, and to a person not acquainted with him, there would appear an exaggeration of compliment; but the issue is much like the result to the Mexican prisoners; he has the cold steel thrust at him with all the vehemence at the command of the puny arm that wields it; but Mr. Richardson can receive no injury from such Lilliputian efforts, and must smile at all such piquant productions, but could hardly become irritated at them.

Mr. Richardson feels in an eminent degree what is felt by every man of cultivation in the State—a sincere desire to see all educational interests promoted by every legitimate means. He has exerted himself as much as any member of the Legislature ever did to inaugurate a system of common schools, that should carry the blessings of education into the remotest hamlet in the State, and we believe his efforts are appreciated by those whose appreciation is worth anything. He can have no better proof of the estimation in which his labors are regarded by the great body of the people, than his triumphant election to a post superintendency of the very subject to which his legislative exertions had been directed.

It is true that Mr. Richardson was mainly instrumental in the establishment of the Normal School; that he introduced the bill making the appropriation, and urged its passage with eloquence and effect. That he felt a paternal solicitude in its success we do not hesitate to aver, and when he observed it likely to come under an influence detrimental to the objects of its establishment, he no doubt regretted the obligations that rendered it imperative that he should acquiesce in its abolition. A member of the Legislature is not such a private, but in a representative capacity; and that such representative should obey the will of his constituents is a cardinal principle in all republican and democratic governments; as a minister is sent to a foreign country to represent the interests and wishes of the one sending him; regarding the instructions he may receive as orders he is bound by every principle of honor to obey, and only in the absence of such instructions is he permitted to defer to his own judgment, and then he should act with the best lights that God has given him. Any other view of the representative obligation is rank Federalism—not democratic, not republican—and is a heresy long since banished by the popular verdict from American politics, and could only be revived by some neophyte with a capacity as slender as his experience.

If Mr. Richardson has been compelled to devour his own off-spring, as his accusers would have us believe, it was from a stern sense of duty, and in obedience to an elementary principle of his political faith, that no Democrat, though as ignorant as his assailant, is unacquainted with; nor could he disregard it without becoming as faithless to his profession as those who change their name from Whig to Know-Nothing, and then to Opposition, in hopes of securing popular favor.

The office to which Mr. Richardson has been elected is second to none in the Commonwealth in responsibility and in opportunities for usefulness—so important, indeed, is it, that the very first intellect in the nation thought it not unworthy to engage his powers, and we know that Mr. Richardson, who has every qualification to discharge the duties with profit to the public and credit to himself, if he had no more capacity than his crude assailant, could not widely err from a pathway so ably designated by his distinguished predecessor.

A RARE CHANCE.—Mr. R. Gillispie advertises the house in which he resides for sale upon liberal terms. The house is one of the most desirable family dwellings in Frankfort. It contains 16 rooms, with dry cellars, and is in perfect repair. The lot is a large one, running back from Main street towards the river 400 feet. There is a good stone stable upon the premises, with an alley running from it to the street. So good an opportunity of buying a first-rate dwelling in Frankfort on easy terms does not often present itself.

We call attention to the advertisement of the Mansion House. This well-known hotel will be reopened to the traveling public on the 25th inst., under the management of Mr. G. L. Postlethwaite. It has lately been refitted, and from the reputation of its new proprietor, will be well kept. The indications are that it will be crowded with guests during the coming winter.

Dr. AYER, THE CELEBRATED LUNG AND THROAT PHYSICIAN, who is at the head of the well known "Lung and Throat Institute," Cincinnati, O., will pass through Frankfort, arriving at 7 o'clock Thursday evening, (to-night). He may be consulted professionally at the Capitol Hotel till 10 o'clock, A. M., Friday. So favorable opportunity may not occur again of seeing a Physician so invariably successful in the speedy cure of Asthma, Catarrh, and all forms of lung and throat diseases.

Money Matters

There is no denying the fact that "money is power," and Mr. Chy never uttered a truer sentiment in the forty years he was in public life. The capitalists of the world possess the controlling power of the world, and they can render the sword as harmless as the distaff; and the center of capital is to the body politic what the heart is to the human body. There is not an intelligent banker in the country who does not watch with interest the fluctuations of exchange; and when the tide sets out of New York, you see bank presidents shake their heads and bank directors look profound, and you may expect "nothing discount" till a turn takes place. This vulgar thing called money has an interest for all, and all the preaching for two thousand years against the love of it has not made men love it the less; and the knowledge of this fact warrants us in giving our readers a weekly summary of any items of interest on a subject which lies so near their hearts; it is a scientific fact that the "pocket" is the most sensitive to the touch of all the organs of the human structure.

Money is becoming moderately easy, although business is still dull. The change in the weather will induce the slaughtering of hogs, and we may expect our usual winter activity in trade. In Louisville, packers are not offering more than $3.50 gross; but sellers demand $4, at which latter price there are plenty to be had. We believe that Mr. Macklin's agents are still paying $4, as we have heard of no alteration in their prices. The droves we have observed passing are finely fattened, and will compare favorably with those of any season.

Wheat and flour have both advanced since our last, and are very firm. The foreign advances are favorable to a good export demand. If the surplus grain in the country was exported at present prices, in addition to the cotton that is now going forward, it would soon put a stop to the export of cotton.

If there is no unusual political excitement in Europe, we may look for the next to be a year of unexampled prosperity; but the contingencies of this kind have become so hazardous that we may expect a general war at any hour. This, to us, however, would be an advantage in many respects; it would create a demand for shipping, bread-stuffs, and provisions; but it would depress cotton and carry off coin.

The banks of Kentucky are noble institutions, and we doubt if there are to be found in any country a set of corporations who evince more interest for the welfare of the community and their customers. Corporations are generally regarded as soulless; but they are only soulless in the hands of soulless men; for the widest benevolence the world has seen is now being exerted by corporate institutions; but they are in the hands of men eminent for personal benevolence, and who impress their character upon the institutions they control.

A devoted friend of ours, who is not more remarkable for the meekness and power with which he dispenses the word of truth than for a disposition for the enjoyment of a sly joke—and who is of the Baptist persuasion, what we are going to tell. He had at one time no little difficulty in making both ends meet, owing to the negligence of his members paying their dues, and it was a source of considerable annoyance to the good man. At the close of a protracted meeting, during which he had shown unusual powers of endurance and persuasion, and had gathered many into the fold, there was held the usual monthly church meeting, at which some member proposed that the salary of their worthy pastor should be increased from $1,000 to $1,500, and this was instantly seconded; but our friend, who was moderator of the meeting, arose with all due gravity and said: "Brethren, before I put the question, I wish to say a word in explanation. It requires no little study and time to prepare the sermons I preach to you, and it takes so much time to collect the salary you already give me, that I fear if you raise it, I will not have any time left to prepare to preach at all"—and down he sat. Since then he has been punctually paid.

Col. ROBERT S. FORDE, of Hardin county, for some time editor of the Elizabethtown Democrat, is announced as a candidate for Assistant Clerk of the House of Representatives. There is not a more competent or deserving Democrat in the State. He has done good service for his party with tongue and pen, and merits a recognition at their hands.

A Golden Eagle was killed on the Lower St. Lawrence, and brought to Quebec, which was shot while endeavoring to carry off a child about three years of age. This is the only bird in America that will attack the human species. They breed in the North, following at this season the birds and animals that seek a milder climate.

Count Fuselli, a Venetian silk-grower, finds that the silk-worms in India are affected with the same disease as in Italy, and he fears that the worm is going out of existence. What a sad prospect for the votaries of fashion. When the silk-worms all die the ladies will be obliged to slum themselves up, for nothing but silk answers for the street in these days.

Wesley C. Simmons, arrested at Richmond, Va., charged with uttering seditious sentiments, is a native of Anne Arundel county, Maryland, but has lived ten years in Belmont county, Ohio. He could have been imprisoned one year, and fined five hundred dollars.

Ex-President Pierce has purchased a tract of fifteen acres of land, in Concord, N. H., on which he intends to build a house next spring.

Col. Jas. K. Huey, of Livingston county, left this city last Thursday morning, on the Thos. Scott. He is going to Texas, where he intends to reside.—Paducah Herald.

Democratic Meeting in Christian.

At a meeting of the Democracy of Christian county, held at the court-house in Hopkinsville, on Monday, the 7th inst., Dr. J. C. Whitlock was called to the Chair, and Will. D. Gentry appointed Secretary. After the object of the meeting was stated, on motion, a committee, consisting of one from each magistrate's district, was appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the party in the county. While the committee were absent the meeting was addressed by Messrs. Leavelle, Sybert, Chapman, Greenfield, and Feland, all of whom nobly acquitted themselves by well timed speeches characteristic of the true principles of Democracy. The committee returned the following resolutions, which were taken up separately and unanimously passed:

Resolved, That we have entire confidence in the wisdom and patriotism of the Administration of James Buchanan.

Resolved, That we approve of, and adhere to the principles of the Democratic party as set forth in the Cincinnati platform of June, 1856, and carried out by the Administration of Mr. Buchanan.

Resolved, That we congratulate the Democracy and the country upon the recent triumph of our principles in Kentucky, and regard the same as decisive against the issues and aims of the Opposition.

Resolved, That we approve of the principles avowed by Gov. Magoffin in his Inaugural address, and are rejoiced that Kentucky has now an Executive Chief who knows his duty and will perform it in an energetic manner.

Resolved, That our judgment, the recent outrages at Harper's Ferry, Va., is but the practical out-working of the doctrines of the Opposition or Black Republican faction at the North, and we earnestly hope that it will be a warning and serve as an awakening to the people of Kentucky to the dangers of an affiliation for any purpose with Northern Opponents.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Democracy of Christian county are due, and are hereby tendered to our member elect, Wm. Brown, and our State Senator, Robert Glenn, and our distinguished Congressman, Sam'l D. Peyton, for their efficient services during the last canvass.

Resolved, That the Democracy of Christian county endorse the Dred Scott decision in all and every part.

Resolved, That having the utmost confidence in the judgment and sound discretion of our delegates to the State Convention on the 20th of January next, and believing that in all matters coming before that body they will act as the interest of the country demands, we leave them entirely untrammelled by instructions.

Resolved, That the following gentlemen, and any other Directors of our county who may choose to attend, are hereby appointed delegates to the Frankfort Convention on the 9th of January next: Peter Rodgers, A. J. Farrer, W. W. McKeezie, L. T. Brasher, A. J. Kenner, Rice Dulin, John Clark, D. M. Woodbridge, Louis Hardy, Joseph Corder, Peter T. Owen, Newton Payne, L. L. Leavelle, W. D. Gentry, Dr. Whitlock, J. J. Thomas, L. A. Sybert, John D. Murray, W. S. Moore, P. F. Stewart, James M. Ford, S. B. Greenfield, J. M. Wilson, J. W. A. McGarvey.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Democracy are due Will D. Gentry and Sam. B. Greenfield of the People's Press, for the efficient way in which they disseminated the principles of the party in the late canvass, and that it is the duty of the Democracy of Christian county to support their labors.

On motion, the meeting adjourned.

J. C. WHITLOCK, Chairman.
WILL D. GENTRY, Secretary.

Later from Hayti.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Advices from Hayti October 22d, state that twenty individuals concerned in the recent conspiracy and murder of the President, had been tried, convicted, and sentenced to death. Sixteen of them had already been hung; one was reprieved, and three had previously escaped to France. Gen. Oudinot, for having suppressed the facts connected with the insurrection, of which he was previously aware, was sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

Fort au Prince had been relieved from martial law, and the country was quiet.

Washington Items.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Judge Douglas' condition has improved within the last 24 hours, and his physicians consider him better this morning. The postmaster at Brownsville, writing to the Post-office Department, mentions that all the mail routes in that quarter had been made impassable by forces acting under Cortinas, and the mail carriers had been made prisoners. He says this is emphatically a war of races and of extermination.

The Board of Aldermen have refused their assent to set apart next Thursday as a day of thanksgiving.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The New Orleans Picayune, of the 12th, says that Gen. Pillow's brigade is willing to go to Brownsville if the funds are provided by the public. The authorities of that city are doing nothing towards assisting the Texas.

The Picayune urges the city to furnish money for an expedition against the guerrillas.

Judge Douglas' Illness.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Judge Douglas' early recovery of his health was on Saturday anticipated by some of his most intimate friends. It is, however, reliably ascertained that he has been extremely ill for the last three days. His physicians remained with him during last night, and this morning regard his condition about the same as it was yesterday, though perhaps he is a little more comfortable.

Gen. Walker's Movements.

ACCESTA, Ga., Nov. 14.—The New Orleans True Delta, of Friday, says Gen. Walker had arrived in that city and proposes to take command of a party to relieve Brownsville. It is also stated that active operations are being made in portions of Texas to aid the inhabitants of that town against attacks of the outlaws.

EDITOR MARRIEN.—Our good friend, J. Tom. Ingram, of the Can'ton Yeoman, was married on Monday, the 31st ult., to Miss Julia A. New. We wish him all the happiness that anybody ever realized by having a "sweet little wife." We shall expect the Yeoman to be more interesting than ever, under the new arrangement.

New York Politics.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The Albany Journal's figures give to Leavenworth, Republican, for Secretary of State, a majority of 1,200. The Argus reduces this majority considerably.

A meeting of the Hard shell central committee was called for to-day, but only one member was present. He adjourned without taking any action on the election of the Charleston delegates.

Dreadful Accident.

PUFFALO, Nov. 15.—A portion of the ruins of the grain elevator of the N. Y. Central railroad, which was burned last week, fell this evening, burying ten or twelve laborers who were engaged in clearing the ground. Two of these unfortunate men were killed and four injured.

Gov. Corwin and the Speakership.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 15.—There was an error in to-day's dispatch in relation to Gov. Corwin and the Speakership of the House of Representatives. It should have read as follows: The friends of Mr. Corwin desire it to be understood that he is a candidate for the Speakership.

New York Election.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The Albany Atlas and Argus give the majority for Leavenworth, Secretary of State, at 800.

Proclamation by the Governor.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY.
Executive Department.

Another abundant harvest has been gathered; another year of multiplied blessings is fast drawing to a close. The labors of the farmer, the mechanic, the manufacturer, and the merchant, the professional man and the man of science, have been abundantly rewarded; commerce has revived, trade has improved, and thrift is apparent everywhere throughout the land. Neither war nor pestilence nor famine has afflicted us. Peace, plenty, and health have blessed a free, prosperous, and happy people. Providence has showered its blessings upon us as individuals, as a State, as a nation. We should return to Him the homage of grateful hearts. In the eager pursuit of pleasure, of fortune, or of fame—in the excitement of our daily occupations—in the multifarious pursuits of life, we are too apt to forget Him from whom these blessings come. Acknowledging no sovereign but Him, let us recognize the venerable custom of the "Jewish Feast of Weeks" appointed by Jehovah for his chosen people. For the establishment of and preservation then, of our free institutions—for the preservation of our lives and health—for our tranquility, prosperity, and happiness—for our general thrift and the untold blessings we enjoy as a State and a people—

I, BEHAUN MAGOFFIN, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, do hereby appoint and set apart THURSDAY, the 21st day of November next, as a day of THANKSGIVING AND PRAISE TO ALMIGHTY GOD, and recommend its appropriate observance by all the citizens of the Commonwealth.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the Commonwealth to be affixed. Done at Frankfort, this 11th day of October, A. D. 1859, and in the sixty-eighth year of the Commonwealth.

By the Governor: B. MAGOFFIN.
THO. B. MUNRO, JR., Secretary of State.

By JAS. W. TATE, Asst. Secretary.
